Montréal, April 3, 2018

UNIS VERT L'ART PRESENTS ITS COLLECTIVE ECOSENSITIVE OF 40 ARTISTS IN VISUAL ARTS.

Forty renowned artists for the most part and emerging for some, deliver their visions inspired by Fairmont The Queen Elizabeth's artifacts with the collective exhibition "UNIS VERT L'INTEMPOREL" at the LIVART Gallery.

Opening: April 26, 17H -21H in the presence of the artists, free admission

Exhibition: April 24 to May 1, 2018 (closed Monday)

The Livart: 3980 rue Saint-Denis, Montreal, H3W 2M3

Unis Vert l'Art inaugurates its fourth eco-artistic event with nearly 40 artists, notorious for many, including André Fournelle, Don Darby, Françoise Issaly, Jean-Daniel Rohrer, Marc Garneau, Michel Beaucage, Laurent Lamarche, Pierre Leblanc, Peter Hoffer and Yves Louis-Seize.

As part of its renovations, the Queen Elizabeth Hotel commissioned Unis Vert l'Art inc. (formerly mandated for the "Château Allant Vert" project at Château Frontenac in Quebec City in 2012), in order to recover silverware as well as recyclable heritage and prestigious materials in order to make works of art through professional artists, safeguarding our heritage, while contributing to the well-being of the planet. The exhibition will bring together nearly 80 works of art from different disciplines, such as sculptures, paintings, photographs and installations.

This exhibition addresses an eco-sensitive vision, and proposes a new and current look at our consumer society, while enhancing our heritage assets.

These artists offer an unusual approach to their journey, unveiling a unique look and evoking a new meaning to these artifacts rich in inspiration.

About Unis Vert l'Art

Unis Vert l'Art is a cultural and ecological company that has been organizing eco-artistic projects in Quebec since 2008. Combining art and environment, Unis Vert l'Art collects recyclable artifacts steeped in history, structures events, often in collaboration with other companies, and promotes artists and their works of art.
